

PAVESTONE COMPANY HONORED WITH 2009 GOLDEN HAMMER AWARD

April 7, 2009

The Home Channel News has announced that Pavestone Company will be honored as a 2009 Golden Hammer Award winner at the National Hardware Show in May. The 25th Annual Golden Hammer Awards recognize elite suppliers who exemplify the gold standard by demonstrating their commitment to the support of retailer sales, marketing and partnership efforts.

This year, Pavestone outshines more than 20 competitors in the Decorative Landscaping category to take first place honors. Ballots were e-mailed to buyers and merchandise managers of America's top 500 homecenter/building material dealers/retailers. Retailers/Dealers were asked to select one supplier from each of the 32 product categories they felt excelled in strategic partnerships with retailers/dealers using the following criteria: Category Management, Inventory Management, New Product Innovation, Quality Control, Serving Pros. The vendors receiving the most votes within their respective category are awarded the prestigious Golden Hammer Award.

Pavestone Company President Bobby Staten is proud that the company is being recognized for its best of field excellence. "At Pavestone, we pride ourselves in providing our valued retail customers with service levels, innovative products and management systems that set the industry standard. This recognition/award is a testament to the hard work and dedication of every member of our service organization. I could not be prouder of this accomplishment for our team."

Pavestone Company, manufacturing since 1980, serves the retail distributor as well as contractor markets with the highest quality concrete pavers, retaining walls and erosion control systems.
