Color Variations

As in all natural materials, color in paving stones has inherent variations. Paver color is affected by the variances in the raw materials, concrete mixture moisture content, climatic conditions and other variations. Therefore, the colors shown are approximate representations of Pavestone’s paver colors, but should not be expected to be an exact match of what will be delivered.

The Nature of Efflorescence

Another cause of color variation in pavers may be the natural phenomenon called efflorescence. Efflorescence, a deposit of white salts consisting of mostly calcium carbonate, may appear as a white powder on the paver surface and in no way affects the structural integrity. This phenomenon occurs in all concrete and although it cannot be completely prevented from occurring, efflorescence generally will weather off and disappear over time or can be removed with cleaners at the job site.

Segmental wall systems are built to be extremely durable and resilient under even the most adverse environmental conditions. Your masterpiece will tell your story for years to come.

ACCESSORIES

ORGANICALLY STABILIZED JOINTING MATERIAL THAT RESISTS EROSION AND IS SELF-HEALING

Resists erosion • Inhibits weed & ant infestation Self-healing • Water permeable • Environmentally friendly

for smaller joints (0-10mm)

Unlike other synthetic or "Polymeric" materials, EnviroSAND (because of its Organic Binder) can actually re-heal itself in the paver joint.

In conditions where cracking or movement may occur, the onset of water, heals the sand and molds it back to the shape of the paver joint.

for larger joints (10-25mm)

EnviroSTONE uses an environmentally friendly, organic binder to join the fines of crushed stone together with its larger particles. Water activates the binder, which swells into a glue-like gel. After saturation, the stone will harden to minimize erosion and weed infestation while giving the strength needed in your joints or base.
